

SERIOUS ACCIDENTS.

Several Persons are Badly Injured in Various Ways.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT IN A MILL.

Which Narrowly Escapes Proving Fatal to the Boss—A Young Man has his Leg Crushed and Mangled by a Falling Stone—Unique Accident to a Child.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, a painful and serious accident happened in the stone yard of Puig, Carey & Co., just above Twenty-Ninth street, where the huge stones are dressed for use in the Main street bridge. One of these stones was being lifted from the car by means of a derrick, and Calvin Dally, a 17-year-old employee of Hallock Brothers, was directing it to the point where it was to rest, when it slipped and fell. Young Dally was caught beneath it, his right leg being pinned to the ground. It was some little time before his fellow workmen succeeded in lifting the stone, and it was then found that the leg was broken and crushed out of shape.

The patrol wagon was summoned and the injured young man sent to the hospital, where Dr. Charles Frisell was summoned to dress his injuries.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mr. Hugh Cleary, of the Belmont Mill, has his Jaw-bone Cracked and is Otherwise Wounded.

A serious accident, and one that might have resulted fatally, happened yesterday to Hugh Cleary, the boss machinist at the Belmont mill. Mr. Cleary was doing some work about the engine and when the engine was started again one end of an iron bar he had been using was under the piston rod. The bar was thrown up and struck Cleary in the face. He was thrown down and the cross head pushed him up against the cylinder, striking him three times on the right side.

The engine was stopped and the man taken from his perilous position, and Dr. John R. Pipes was called in. It was found that his jaw-bone was cracked by the blow from the iron bar, and that his side was painfully bruised.

Cut Her Throat.

While a daughter of Lawrence Joyce, aged three years, was holding a tumbler up to her mouth she fell, and breaking the tumbler, cut her throat on the edge.

A BUSY MONDAY.

The Police Pile up a Big Docket for this Morning.

Word was received at police headquarters yesterday that Albert Ruffe, sent up from Upshur county, had escaped from the West Virginia Reform School at Pruntytown and that $25 will be paid for his recapture.

The Union Clothing Co.'s store at Canton, Ohio, was robbed last week. A card has been received by the police here offering a reward for the capture of the thief.

Pat Colon and John Fleme were the names given by two drunken men arrested in the second ward market yesterday afternoon by Officer West and sent down in the patrol wagon.

Officer Porter found Thomas Brannon and H. Stevenson drunk and annoying people in East Wheeling and brought them in. Carney brought in Len Heynolds, also drunk. Special Burns, of the Baltimore & Ohio station, locked up William Davis, drunk, and James Jones, disorderly, and Officer Creighton added a plain drunk with the name of M. C. McMasters.

This was all before supper time, an unusual record for Monday. It looks as if the boys were "on to" the mayor's extra charge for Sunday drunks, and were postponing their fun till the next day.

Last night about 9 o'clock Creighton found W. G. Norris, a Fairmont laborer, blind drunk on Main street, south of Twelfth, and hauled him in. Cohen and Fleme got into a fight in their cell in the afternoon, and choked and beat each other a good while, but were too drunk to do very much harm.

THE JUSTICES KEPT BUSY.

Chicken Thieves and Disorderlies Appear Before Justices Davis and Arkie.

William Ward was arrested yesterday by Officer Conrad for cruelty to animals, on a warrant sworn out by John Damas, the offense alleged having been committed on September 6. Ward gave bond for his appearance before Squire Arkie this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dave McAny was arrested yesterday by Constable Lauchlin charged with assault and battery on Thomas Burke. Burke is accused of profane swearing. Both were sent to jail in default of bond, but were released later, having secured it, and will have a hearing to-day before Squire Arkie.

Squire Davis had plenty of business yesterday evening, and his office was crowded for about two hours. Gus and Ed Cook were accused of having stolen some chickens from Ed Costello early Sunday morning. Gus pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. Ed's case was deferred until to-day, owing to the absence of an important witness for the prosecution. The arrests were made by Officers Terrill and Lukens.

A peace warrant is out for James Jones, who is accused of having beaten his wife in a shameful manner.

Mrs. Stella Reed was arrested on a peace warrant, sworn out by Mrs. Mattie Taylor. She was fined $1 and costs for "contending with angry words." Mrs. Taylor was fined on the same charge last week, and took this way of getting even with Mrs. Reed. Capt. Dovenor wanted to take an appeal, but as the statute requires that the fine must be $20 or more before an appeal can be allowed, but limits the amount of the fine to $5 in a case of this kind, the justice refused to allow an appeal.

A Pottery Starts up.

The Chelsea pottery, at New Cumberland, started up in full yesterday. The pottery had been shut down for the past month because of a fight among the stockholders over the retention of the manager, a man named Shaw. A majority of the stockholders would not let the pottery run as long as he was retained, and he was removed.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed, by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

GEN. GOFF at Bellaire to-night. THE GRAND this evening—"Mugg's Landing."

OPERA HOUSE this evening—"The White Slave." A DANCE will be given on October 8, by the Gaiety club at Teutonia hall.

It actually rained at 1 o'clock this morning for several minutes so that it could be felt.

Ohio peaches are coming in in wagon loads. They are fine, and sell at from $1 to $2 a bushel.

The Teutonia club will give a dance Wednesday night at its hall on Jacob street, near Thirty-third.

The Terminal trestle past the Warren cooper shops was completed yesterday. The track will be laid at once.

The potato crop this year is said to be not only larger than for ten years past, but of much finer quality.

The tomato season holds out well. The fruit is still being delivered to the three catsup factories by the scores of wagon loads.

There will be some very interesting exercises at the Wheeling Gymnasium this evening. All members are requested to be present.

SEABRIGHT DIVISION, B. of I. E., will go to Parkersburg next Sunday to institute there a division of the order among the engineers on the Ohio River road.

There are six more carloads of electric light poles in the Hampfield yard. It will require about twenty carloads to finish the system. They are being put up rapidly.

The big pile driver for use on the Main street stone bridge is about ready for use. It has the largest hammer ever seen in this vicinity, weighing over 3,500 pounds.

There were twelve assorted cases in police court yesterday, and the customary fines were assessed. There was nothing of especial interest to the public in any of them.

The not unwelcome intelligence was received yesterday that that irrepressible Wheeling mope, Jeff Davis, was in jail in Chicago. Jeff will not remain there long, probably.

The grand drama "The Fairies' Well," with a carload of special scenery and a host of novelties, will be at the Grand the last three nights of this week. This is said to be a great attraction.

CITY ENGINEER BROWN and a Council committee from Ironton, O., were here yesterday inspecting the Wheeling fire brick pavement, and seemed favorably impressed. They left last night for Steubenville.

The Panhandle has been making some improvements about Wellsburg, having put in a new siding for the Brooke glass works and the extension of the Riverside glass works siding will be completed within a few days.

LILLIE WEST, nee Wilson, the wife of Jack West, of Alley 15, who committed suicide by taking laudanum Sunday, was buried at 4 p. m. yesterday. Mrs. West as a girl was well known for her beauty and abandoned life.

The stone work on the new St. James Lutheran church, on Chapline street south of Fourteenth, is done. A slated spire is to rise seventy-five feet from the square stone tower. The congregation proposes also to buy a large bell for the steeple.

There was a report last evening that a servant girl in a prominent Chapline street family had "run amuck" and chased her mistress about the house with a huge bread knife, but inquiry led to the belief that the story was untrue, or at least exaggerated.

A CARLOAD of Texas ponies arrived Sunday morning and are at the East Wheeling stockyards. Apparently all the small boys in town gather there to pick out their ponies. There will be the usual epidemic of broken arms and heads for the next month or two.

The Saratoga band gave the INTELLIGENCER a very enjoyable serenade last night. This organization makes good music and promises to be very popular. The INTELLIGENCER, by the way, is becoming headquarters for fine music—three serenades in three days.

CONSIDERING the fact that it is late in the season Sunday excursion travel over the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio continues very heavy. Yesterday 225 persons went from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, fifty went to Washington and half as many to Ohio Pyle.—Pittsburgh Post.

THE Steubenville Herald says: J. W. Gallagher and F. M. Fitzsimmons, members of the City Council of Mounts-ville, W. Va., are in the city inspecting our beautiful streets. They should have come later when the leaves and other rubbish are not being burned on the streets, mamal.

AUGUST HENNING, the merchant tailor, yesterday moved from his place on Fourteenth street to his new house, just completed, in the Eighth ward. The rooms he has occupied as residence and tailor shop, will be remodeled and occupied by the INTELLIGENCER as editorial rooms and for other purposes. They are just over the INTELLIGENCER bindery.

Methodist Preachers in Town.

Revs. C. Poling, of Beverly; J. M. Warden, of Clarksburg; J. G. Strader, of Huldeman; William Lewis and daughter, of Addison; W. H. Sturm, of Philippi; H. H. Lewis, of Helvetia; G. H. Bent, of Valley Head; J. A. Marteny, of Helvetia; C. E. Feather, of Albright; F. M. Cain, of Bruceton; C. E. Crider, of Peck's run; W. W. Workman, of Oakdale; O. C. Phillips, of Cottageville; A. W. Owenby, of Grayville; R. E. Hughes, of Sutton; C. W. Millam and wife, of Pleasant Valley, and H. L. Ward, of Raymond City, arrived in town last night and registered at the Stamm House. They come to attend the M. E. Conference.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Yesterday was the seventieth birthday of Mr. Samuel F. Faris, of the Island, and his family and friends celebrated it in a very pleasant way. He and Mrs. Faris were out to tea, and when they returned they found quite a family party assembled. He was made the recipient of a number of nice presents by his children and of congratulations and well wishes by all assembled and the evening passed enjoyably and fleetly for all.

The Catholic Mission.

The attendance at the Cathedral mission services yesterday was large. The interest manifested by the members of the congregation is very gratifying to the priests in charge of the mission. Services will be held to-day again. At seven and eight o'clock there will be mass and a sermon, and at 3:30 p. m. the stations of the cross. At 7:30 p. m. the services will be exclusively for women.

JULIUS JACOBS will be open in the evening till 8 o'clock.

THE DIRTY STREETS.

The Street Commissioner Explains why they are So.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE ORDINANCE.

Against Depositing Filth on the Street would do some Good, but Lack of Money is the Worst Drawback. Earth on the Paved Streets Not so Bad.

The general kicking all over town about the dirty—in some places actually filthy—streets, has seemed to have no effect on those in control. The state of affairs became so bad in some quarters that ladies soberly debated the project of forming a broom brigade and sweeping the paved streets.

There is an ordinance forbidding the deposit of refuse, paper, etc., on the streets, and if it were enforced it would better matters very much. There are places where boards, barrel hoops, cans, decayed fruit and fruit offal form large accumulations in the street. A few heavy fines on the perpetrators of these violations of the law would have a doubly good effect, deterring future offenses and replenishing the contingent fund of the Board of Public Works, which is expended in cleaning the streets.

Yesterday, an INTELLIGENCER reporter met the superintendent of streets, Mr. John Clark, and asked him why the streets were not kept clean. "We have no money," he responded, "to clean them. We have not a man on the streets doing any kind of work. A week ago last Friday the Board told me the contingent fund was exhausted, and to put off all the men. Of course the Board's word is law to me, and since that time I have done no work."

"I do not believe," continued Mr. Clark, "in keeping the paved streets too clean. A little earth on them protects them. If they are entirely bare and a horse with a sharp calk on his shoe strikes a corner of a brick it chips off a piece. A wheel rolling over an uneven joint is also likely to break a brick. If the people and the Board want the streets swept with hand brooms, and will give me the money to do it with, I will do it. If they want the brick pavements sand-purged, I have no objections to having the work done if they will furnish the money. Of course, some of the streets are a little dirty now, but we can't well help that without funds."

The objection to removing the earth because it is a protection to the brick would be obviated if the pavements were properly tarred and sanded. In many localities the brick are absolutely bare of tar and the cracks washed out, and the pavements are wearing badly in consequence.

Mr. Clark said he had removed a dead dog from a South Side street yesterday, and a little later found that another had been left lying on the street and somebody had thrown it into a sewer opening where it was in such a condition as to make it impossible to remove it. He called on the Niagara engine, which went down and washed away all the carcass that was soluble. The deposit of such things in the sewers is a violation of law. Many sewers in prominent and populous places are offensive to the point of being nauseating, which ought not to be. A good flushing out would not cost anything and would remedy matters materially.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

L. C. Scott, of Beverly, is in the city. Mrs. S. W. Watt left yesterday on a visit to Terra Haute, Ind.

Miss Amelia Meagel has returned from a trip to Pittsburgh.

George T. Carskadon, of Keyser, was at the Windsor yesterday.

R. H. D. Willis, of Grafton, was at the McClure House yesterday.

Hon. John A. Hutchinson, of Parkersburg, is at the Windsor Hotel.

Miss Josie McDowell, of Oil City, Pa., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wills.

F. Beckendorf and daughter, Miss Hannah, are visiting at Evansville, Ind.

Miss Lillie Vance left yesterday to attend school at Ogant, near Philadelphia.

Mr. Charles L. Hobbs is able to be out after a five weeks' siege of typhoid fever.

Bishop Warren will preside over the M. E. Conference, which meets here to-morrow.

Dr. C. Shriver, of Bethany, and E. B. Clarke, of Parkersburg, were guests of the Windsor yesterday.

S. B. Crawford, of Baltimore, and W. B. McClung, of Harrisonburg, Va., are registered at the Stamm House.

Cadet Guy Scott will leave to-day for the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis, after spending his summer vacation at home.

A. J. McGrath, of Fairmont, W. E. Trimble and Thomas P. Douglas, of Overfield, are registered at the Stamm House.

Dr. J. W. McCoy, of the South Side, who has been unwell for the past few days, was taken seriously ill yesterday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Naylor and little son, Wilson, have returned from a two weeks' visit to Columbus and Findlay.

Mr. James N. Knox, of Shinnston, W. Va., who has been visiting relatives on Fifteenth street, returned yesterday morning.

Part of the Mugg's Landing company registered yesterday at the Windsor, and six members put up at the Behler hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stone last evening entertained the Arcadian Club, of Martin's Ferry, at their home on the Island, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Louis Heekel, who has been visiting his grand father, Mr. John Heekel, for several days on his way home from the East, expects to leave for his home in Kansas City this morning.

C. E. Bell, of Clarksburg, J. K. Yoast, of Clarington, James Travis, of Fairmont, Eugene Collett, of Parkersburg and J. L. B. Jones, of Philippi, registered yesterday at the Behler.

Rev. J. Henry Hess, formerly pastor of the Zane street M. E. church, now stationed at Grafton, is the earliest arrival, to attend the meeting of conference which opens to-morrow. He is accompanied by his family.

Mrs. William Wilson, of Clayville, who was stricken with paralysis recently, went on Thursday to Brooklyn to be treated by her cousin, Dr. Charles F. Clark. Accompanying her is her husband and sister, Miss Annie McCabe. Dr. Clark is a member of the W. & J. class of '78 and a son of Hugh

B. Clark, of Wheeling. He has earned for himself a position as one of the most prominent physicians of Brooklyn.—Washington, Pa., Reporter.

John Cochran and son, of Cameron, T. T. Mansfield, of New Martinsville, Thomas Kelly, of Wellsburg, B. H. Hall, of Fairmont, Rev. J. W. Webb and wife, of Morgantown, S. J. Earle and J. W. Morgan, of Respect, were the West Virginians at the St. Charles yesterday.

THE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION.

How to get Tickets to the Parkersburg Meeting.

Editors proposing to attend the meeting of the State Editorial Association at Parkersburg October 13 will be furnished tickets by applying as follows: Those living on the Pan Handle railroad to Mr. E. A. Ford, at Pittsburgh. This road will not issue passes to an editor "and lady," but will give separate passes for ladies. Their names must therefore be mentioned in the application.

Along the B. & O. road, to Charles O. Scull, Baltimore.

From Wheeling and Huntington to Parkersburg, to Mr. W. J. Robinson, Parkersburg.

On the Chesapeake & Ohio road, to Mr. C. B. Ryan, division passenger agent, Cincinnati.

Those living on the lines of the shorter railroads in the interior of the State will apply to the passenger agents of their respective lines.

Tickets will not be issued to any except those legitimately and regularly employed on the newspapers they propose to represent.

DISORDER IN A SALOON.

A Policeman Criticized for Enforcing a Commandable Ordinance.

Margery Thatcher and Myrtle Marco, two colored prostitutes, were fined $5 and costs each in police court yesterday for loitering in the Arlington saloon. Early this morning Mr. William M. Handlan, the proprietor of the Arlington saloon, approached Officer Creighton, who had made the arrests, and threatened to report him for exceeding his authority in going into his saloon and arresting the women. The officer told him to go ahead and report—the sooner the better; that the women were disorderly, and were also loitering in the saloon, which was against the ordinance. Mr. Handlan had approached him in an ill tempered way on the subject before.

Officer Creighton stated in the INTELLIGENCER office that the arrest was made between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday morning, and that the racket they raised was so loud as to be heard on the steps of the city building. He said Mr. Handlan claimed to know seven men who would swear that there was no disorder in the saloon. Even if there had been no disorder, the women deserved arrest from the mere fact of having been found loitering in the saloon.

"Mugg's Landing."

A large audience assembled at the Grand last night to see "Mugg's Landing." To say that all were more than pleased would be putting it mildly. This is one of the most popular attractions seen at the Grand this season. Phil Peters as the "Old Sober" made a tremendous hit. In fact, the entire company is great, and the Grand is sure to be crowded at the last performance this evening.

The "Cold Day" Co.

Fisher's comedians will give one performance at the Grand on Wednesday evening of the funny musical comedy entitled "A Cold Day." The company is said to be a fine one this season, and as it gives only one performance, a large audience will probably greet it.

Left for Mexico.

Mr. William Griggs and wife who for a month past have been visiting Mrs. Griggs's sister, Mrs. Capt. Ball, in the East End, left last night, via the B. & O. road, for their home at Piedras Negras, Mexico. Capt. and Mrs. Ball, and Capt. and Mrs. John Frances, of the Island, accompanied them as far as Cincinnati. Mr. Griggs is an official of the Mexican extension of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Blasting Iron into Junk.

Some heavy cannonading seemed to be going on in the Fourth ward last night. Inquiry developed that a junk dealer had bought from the Terminal Company some heavy castings left in the old tack factory, and as they were too heavy to be handled easily, he blew them into smaller pieces with dynamite. This was the occasion of the reports which caused so much inquiry.

The first trial of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will satisfy anyone that the long-heralded virtue of the pine tree has now been refined into an effective and convenient cough medicine. Sold by all dealers on a guarantee of satisfaction.
